We have the knowledge and technical expertise needed to produce the high-barrier films used to package bulk cheese, meat and deli items, cook/chill foods, soups, sauces, and other products that demand specific barrier properties.

Our capabilities include both 7-layer and 9-layer co-extrusions, that enable us to manufacture a wide range of custom blends, specific to individual market segments and products. We rely on our state-of-the-art analytical laboratory and experienced Technical Services and R&D Departments to help us improve existing film blends, and to develop new and improved film structures.
